

Metso Spare Parts

Improved availability and safety

As the original equipment manufacturer, Metso guarantees spare parts of the highest quality, manufactured with the correct materials and exact specifications.

Metso manufactures all valves and spare parts according to international standards and quality systems so that we always meet the highest standards. Original parts and Metso maintenance procedures guarantee the same warranty as Metso offers for new products.

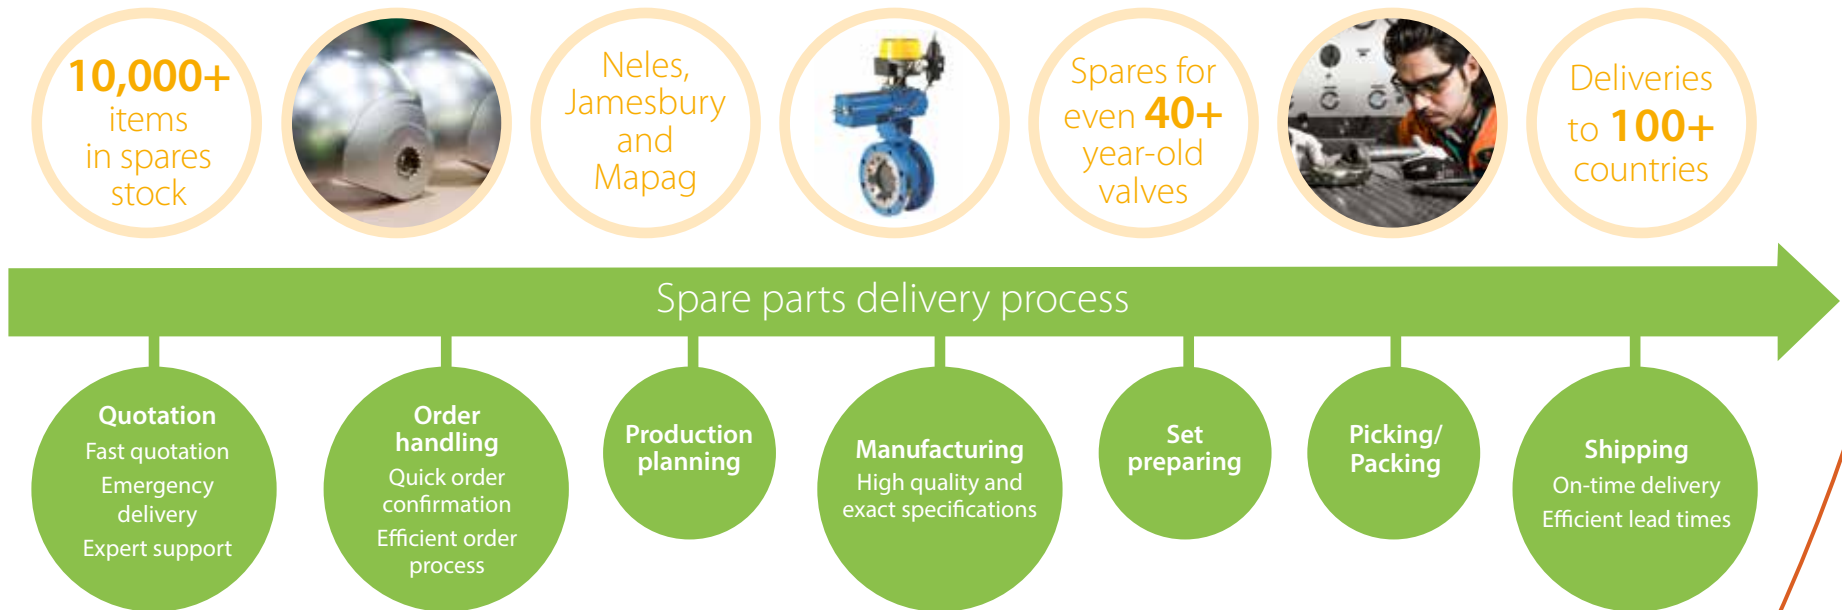

Commonly used spare parts are readily available and often can be delivered the same day. For other cases, Metso provides you with a fast and accurate quotation and carries out orders within an efficient, on-time delivery process to ensure you have the parts you need quickly.

With the correct part at the right time, you can be assured that your service actions can go as planned and have the confidence that the part is manufactured specifically for the device with a precise fit. Metso original parts also ensure your plant's availability and safety, avoiding the unnecessary risks from incorrect parts and repairs.
